Twilight Park Artists Hold 70th Annual Art Exhibition: August 12 and 13, 2017

On August 12 and 13 the 70th exhibition sponsored by Twilight Park Artists at the Twilight Park Clubhouse in Haines Falls, NY opens with a reception from 5 to 7 pm. A children’s art show for young artists ages 14 and under is part of this exhibit. The show is also open to the public on Sunday from 1 to 4:30 pm. On Sunday, Twilight Park resident Gracia Dayton will lead a watercolor demonstration at 3:00 pm. Gracia has been painting on the mountaintop for over 50 years, and is an award-winning watercolorist. She will use watercolor to demonstrate her bold use of color when approaching landscape painting.

Carl Von Brunt, digital artist and Gallery Director of the Woodstock Art Association and Museum and Kurt Van Dexter, visual artist, high school art teacher and landscape designer from Rhode Island are the prize judges of this year’s show.

The 70th Twilight Art Show is sponsored by Twilight Park artists and residents of Twilight Park, a community established “on the mountain top” in Haines Falls, NY in 1888.

Twyla Tharp, dance icon and one of America’s greatest choreographers will take up residency along with her ensemble of dancers at the Catskill Mountain Foundation beginning August 14.

The residency culminates in a performance Saturday, September 9 at 7:30 pm at the Catskill Mountain Foundation’s Orpheum Film and Performing Arts Center, 6050 Main Street, Tannersville, NY.

Ms. Tharp will restage three works: THE RAGGEDY DANCES (1972), a playful exploration of a single theme set to ragtime and Mozart variations, popularly known as “Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star;” THE FUGUE, modeled on “The Musical Offering” by Johann Sebastian Bach; and DYLAN LOVE SONGS, a quintet set to music by Bob Dylan. The piece was made right after Ms. Tharp’s Broadway show COME FLY AWAY (2010). The September 9 performance will also showcase a work-in-progress created during the residency.

The dance icon and her company return to the Catskills after their visit last spring, where they spent six weeks at the Foundation, reconstructing two earlier works, COUNTRY DANCES from 1976 and BRAHMS PAGANINI from 1980, a new work set to Beethoven’s Opus 130 and 133, and a work-in-progress which featured photographs used as backdrops to the dancing taken by Twyla Tharp of the studio, the dancers and the area.

At the performance, the audience was delighted and moved by Twyla’s “valentine” to the Catskills.

From Broadway to Ballet, from Hollywood movies to television, and so much more, Twyla Tharp has had an indelible influence on the world of dance. Since graduating from Barnard College in 1963, Ms. Tharp has choreographed more than one hundred sixty works for her company as well as for the Joffrey Ballet, the New York City Ballet, Paris Opera Ballet, London’s Royal Ballet, and American Ballet Theatre. She’s won two Emmy Awards for television’s Baryshnikov by Tharp, and a Tony Award for the Broadway musical Movin’ Out, featuring the songs of Billy Joel.

A prolific force of nature, she’s also written three books, including her autobiography, Push Comes to Shove, and The Creative Habit: Learn it and Use it for Life, which takes us under the hood of her artistic genius. She is currently at work on her fourth book.

Twyla helped define late 20th century and early 21st century dance. A recipient of a MacArthur Fellowship, Twyla Tharp was inducted into the American Academy of Arts & Sciences in 1993 and was made an honorary member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters in 1997. She is winner of the 2004 National Medal of the Arts, the 2008 Jerome Robbins Prize, and a 2008 Kennedy Center Honor.

Twyla Tharp is a champion for the arts, believing it fortifies us in ways that reach far beyond the stage. She says, “Creativity is not just for artists. It’s for businesspeople looking for a new way to close a sale; it’s for engineers trying to solve a problem; it’s for parents who want their children to see the world in more than one way.”

Tickets to Twyla Tharp’s showcase of earlier and new works at the Orpheum Film & Performing Arts Center, 6050 Main Street, Tannersville, are $25 adults; $20 seniors; $7 students if purchased in advance. This performance is likely to sell out and advance ticket purchases are highly encouraged. Tickets are available at www.catskillmtn.org or by calling 518 263 2063.

It is not entirely clear where barbecue or its name originated. One theory is that the Spanish used the word barbacoa to describe the method of slow-cooking meat over a wooden platform that they saw the natives use in the Caribbean. By the 19th century, the cooking method was well established in the American South and, as pigs were prevalent in the region, pork was the primary meat used for barbecuing. Barbecue allowed an abundance of food to be cooked at once and quickly became the choice for large gatherings. Barbecue styles vary by region—the four main styles are named by their place of origin: Memphis, TN; North Carolina; Kansas City; and Texas. Everyone seems to have their favorite style, and it can approach utter heresy to suggest the superiority of one style to a fanatic of another style.

Regardless of when and where the term was first used, BBQ has become one of America’s favorite food choices. Here in the Catskills, BBQ, whether prepared in the backyard or purchased at any number of BBQ restaurants, is very popular and always a favorite summertime event.

The Great Catskill Mountain BBQ Fest is a sanctioned Kansas City Barbecue Society Professional BBQ competition. Barbecuers from throughout the region and beyond are expected to compete for the top professional cash and trophy prizes. The Professional barbecue is judged on taste, appearance, and texture of the official four meats: chicken, ribs, pork, and brisket. The second competition is the Fire House Throw-Down, local volunteer fire companies will compete for bragging rights, prize money and trophies again this year; The Fleischmanns Fire Department, last year’s winner, will defend its title as the ultimate chicken BBQ winner. And, new this year, the People’s Choice Charity Rib-Off is open to teams and food concession vendors. The contestants... will be judged on Kansas City Barbecue Society rules by “You Be the Judge” special purchase ticket holders.

All proceeds will be donated to the “Light the Park” project, an effort to replace the park lighting lost during Hurricane Irene and as yet not replaced.

As the attendance of over 3000 people at last year’s Great Catskill Mountain BBQ Fest showed, everyone loves BBQ! The demand to buy and eat BBQ and food in general at the 2016 Festival was so great that the organizers of the 2017 Festival have expanded their invite list of vendors and have already received more reservations for vendors over last year.

The event will again be held at Fleischmanns Park, Wagner Avenue, in Fleischmanns. There will be over 50 vendors on the midway including food concessions, craft vendors, a Kidzone tent with activities and a beer tent featuring beer and hard cider microbreweries. Two bands—Country Express and the Pine Hill Playboys—will play throughout the day. Awards will begin between 4:30 pm and 5:00 pm in the following categories: Professional Teams, Fire Company Throwdown and … new this year … People’s Choice Rib-Off.

Changes from last year include more vendors of BBQ and Food; a longer day, 11:00 am to 7:00 pm; and an increased and expanded children’s Kidzone area including a mechanical bull.

Really like BBQ and want to be a judge in the People’s Choice Rib-Off? Keep your eye on the The Great Catskill Mountain BBQ Fest website or Facebook page, and watch for the announcement of the on sale date for the limited number of tickets for would-be judges.

The Great Catskill Mountain BBQ Fest is sponsored by the Fleischmanns Alliance for Business (FAB) and the MARK Project. FAB has set up a website at www.greatcatskillmountainbbqfest.com and a Facebook page at www.facebook.com/gcmbbqfest to keep everyone up to date on the latest news. Golf in Ulster County continues to grow and flourish at a time when the business has struggled in other parts of the country.

The sprawling county, which is geographically the size of the state of Rhode Island, is known for having 12 of the best and most picturesque daily-fee golf courses in New York. Golfers from all over New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania come to play a variety of courses that are in excellent shape, are very affordable and offer little or no waiting to play.

One of the truly amazing success stories is what has happened in Saugerties with the course built by Dr. Anthony Bacchi. Lazy Swan Golf and Country Club Village expanded from nine to 18 holes in the spring of 2012 and has become a regular stop for golfers who enjoy the 6,400-yard course with magnificent views of the nearby Catskill Mountains.

“We’re located just a couple of minutes off the New York State Thruway,” Lazy Swan golf pro Steven Simeon said. “People love that the course is well-groomed, challenging and offers a variety of stunning golf holes.”

This summer, golfers will be greeted with another challenge as all of Lazy Swan’s bunkers will have new sand after a massive renovation that included improving the drainage of each trap. The greenside bunkers, in particular, are perfectly situated to snare an errant shot into the green complexes.

“I think this will add to the beauty and the playability of the course,” Simeon said.

Bacchi took a chance when he opened a nine-hole golf course in 2005 amid rather unsettling economic times. While courses around the country were closing, Bacchi had a dream that if he built a quality product people would come. His risk has paid off handsomely as Lazy Swan has a popular outdoor restaurant and has hosted numerous weddings on the property’s pristine grounds.

“The vision was to create a state-of-the-art golf course,” Bacchi said. “And to build the golf course around a New England-style village. I think we’ve accomplished that and people have discovered what a beautiful place we have here.”

Rondout Golf Club, a scenic 18-hole semi-private course in Accord, is known for its many risk-reward holes with several streams and man-made lakes on the property.

“It’s a fun course to play with the opportunity to make birdies if you hit good shots,” Rondout pro John DeForest said. “We have a well-conditioned public golf course. And it’s a great value for what you pay.”

Apple Greens Golf Course in Highland is a 27-hole layout, located just five minutes off the New York State Thruway New Paltz exit.

“We’re in a great area because we’re only an hour and a half from New York City,” said Judy Roehrs of Apple Greens. “People love coming here because one of our original intentions was to create a private course flavor and we’ve tried to maintain that. Everybody gets attention.”
Acclaimed golf course architect Robert Trent Jones designed the Fallsview Golf Course at the Honor’s Haven Resort and Spa in Ellenville, which has been the site of numerous professional and amateur tournaments.

The nine-hole Mohonk Mountain House course in New Paltz is one of the oldest golf courses in the country. The five-star rated resort hotel, just a five-minute drive from the golf course, sits next to a pristine lake and is known for its stunning views and outstanding service and cuisine.

New Paltz Golf Course is located on the same winding street as New Paltz’s famed historic district of stone houses built by Huguenot settlers in the late 17th century.

“Our course offers a challenge for every level of golfer,” said New Paltz golf pro Larry Furey. “The views are also fantastic and people love to visit the village either before or after their rounds.”

Ellenville’s Shawangunk Country Club is known for its fast greens and excellent fairways.

Stone Dock Golf Course is a challenging nine-hole course in High Falls, where part of the 1961 movie Splendor in the Grass starring Natalie Wood and Warren Beatty was filmed at the waterfalls in the hamlet.

Greens Acres Golf Club, located on Harwich Street in the city of Kingston, is currently undergoing some dramatic changes. The par-4 second hole has been lengthened considerably and several new ponds have been added on that hole and others. It is still one of the best bargains in the county with affordable rates.

Alapaha Golf Links on Sawkill Road in Kingston features a well-conditioned nine-hole par-30 links-style golf course. It also has one of the largest driving ranges in the county.

Turtle Creek Golf Course at the Garden Cathay in Plattekill is a par-34 nine-hole layout that measures 2,643 yards and is in excellent shape. It is a great course for beginners and those looking to sharpen their short games.

The variety of golf is endless in Ulster County and then there’s always the lure of visiting many other attractions such as Woodstock, known as one of the country’s coolest small towns. Once golfers come to Ulster, they seem to return again and again.

For more information about golf in Ulster County, including contact information for all of the courses listed above, please visit ulstercountyalive.com/landing/golf.

The Lucky Dog Farm, Store, and Cafe are located on Main Street in the Delaware County village of Hamden, NY. Owned and operated by Richard and Holley Giles, Lucky Dog strives to provide high-quality, nutritious, organic produce, food, and fun for their immediate community and downstate neighbors.

Lucky Dog offers four ways to enjoy food and community in the heart of the Catskills:

• Savor the seasonal flavors of fresh-picked fruits and vegetables from the Farm.

• While you’re at it, stock up local products from regional producers as well as nutritious and delicious pantry staples at the Store.

• Watch the world go by while enjoying lunch from the Cafe on the Farm Store’s porch or relax in the cozy dining room.

• Stay the night at The Hamden Inn, directly across from the Lucky Dog with views of the mountains and the Lucky Dog barn and fields.

The Farm

Lucky Dog Farm is a NOFA-NY Certified Organic farm that stretches 160 acres across the valley that the Delaware River cuts through the Catskill Mountains. The farm produces a wide variety of certified organic crops, including lettuce, kale, Swiss chard, broccoli, potatoes, carrots, tomatoes, onions, blueberries, asparagus and small grains. Before settling on the banks of the West Branch of the Delaware River in 2000, Richard managed large farms in East Mississippi and West Alabama for 15 years. A visit to the Catskills turned into a move and Lucky Dog was born.

In any given year the farm has 45 to 50 acres actively cultivated in organic vegetables with the remainder in a cover crop used to enrich the farm-made compost. In their time here, Richard and Holley have become very involved in farmland preservation and in the project of building a food system on and beyond their own farm—a system to grow and deliver fresh local food to the neighbors. Lucky Dog Farm produce is available at the Farm Store, as well as at various Farmers Markets, restaurants and retail locations both upstate and downstate. Visit www.luckydogorganic.com/enjoy for the complete list of locations.
The Farm Store
Lucky Dog Farm Store sells a variety of general store products. Centrally located between Delhi and Walton, the Store is the only place in Hamden to eat lunch and buy grocery, gift, or household items.

The Farm Store offers an exceptional variety of produce from the Farm, prepared meals and baked goods from the Cafe, local products from neighboring farms such as cheese, milk, vegetables, fruits and berries, beef, pork and poultry, as well as maple products and honey. Shelves are lined with local home products—soaps, pottery, yarns and woodworks. Bulk dry goods such as nuts, grains, beans, and spices mingle with staples such as rice and olive oil. All store products are chosen consciously.

Stop in for a loaf of bread, a farm-grown tomato, local cheese and a six pack of beer (or other beverage) and head down to the river for a picnic lunch! Don’t forget some of Holley’s delicious fresh-baked cookies for dessert.

The Cafe
The cafe menu includes grilled panini, cold sandwiches, hot dogs, salads, soups and chilis, with an emphasis on using fresh, local, organic ingredients whenever reasonable. Gluten free, vegetarian, and vegan options are available.

During the growing season, much of the produce comes from Lucky Dog’s own farm, and other products are sourced locally or from New York state whenever reasonable.

The Crocodile Bread used on the panini sandwiches is baked daily and is also available in the store. The bread is slow-rising and often sells out, so if you have your heart set on taking one home, please call ahead and reserve a loaf.

Cookies, other baked goods and prepared foods such as hummus, pestos, and soups are all hand-made in the cafe’s kitchen.

Don’t feel like cooking dinner after a busy day at work? Want to relax on the weekend? The staff at Lucky Dog can prepare a delicious meal ready for you to pick up, take home and serve to your family or guests.

And if you’re in a hurry call in advance and they’ll have your lunch waiting for you! They will also make lunch for large groups, and a full catering menu is available.

More Information
The Lucky Dog Farm Store and Cafe are open Tuesday through Sunday. The Store is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 am to 5 pm, and on Sunday from 11 am to 5 pm. The Cafe is open 11 am to 4 pm Tuesday through Friday, 10 am to 4 pm on Saturday and Sunday. The Store and Cafe are closed on Mondays.

Parisian culture, Polish politics, and the piano are the focus of this summer’s annual Bard SummerScape festival, featuring music, opera, theater, film, and cabaret keyed to the theme of the 28th Bard Music Festival, “Chopin and His World.” This intensive examination of the life and times of Fryderyk Chopin sheds new light on the Romantic era by way of a composer variously pigeonholed as a salon pianist or Polish nationalist, yet whose originality would ensure his universal impact and appeal.

Complementing the music festival, the composer and some of his most compelling contemporaries provide other key SummerScape highlights. These include a rare, fully staged production of Dimitrij, a grand opera by fellow Slavic nationalist Antonín Dvořák; a film series exploring “Chopin and the Image of Romanticism;” and the return of Bard’s authentic and sensationally popular Spiegeltent, hosted by the inimitable Mx. Justin Vivian Bond. Taking place between through August 20 in the Frank Gehry-designed Richard B. Fisher Center for the Performing Arts and other venues on Bard College’s stunning Hudson River campus, SummerScape’s 2017 offerings provide new opportunities to discover that, as Time Out New York has said, “the experience of entering the Fisher Center and encountering something totally new is unforgettable and enriching.”

Bard SummerScape presents the long overdue American staged premiere of Dimitrij (1882). Antonín Dvořák’s grand opera is rarely produced outside the Czech Republic yet in its depiction of the struggle for power after the death of Boris Gudonov, the opera has been hailed as “a tragic story that Shakespeare could hardly have bettered” (Boston Globe), and, as a showcase Dvořák’s signature lyricism and masterfully stirring choral writing, it remains “a perfect example of a forgotten opera that deserves to be given exposure” (New York Times).

Bard’s historic presentation of the critical edition by Czech scholar Milan Pospisil restores the 1882 original version of the Prague premiere, including the composer’s original, brutal conclusion in a new production created expressly for SummerScape 2017 by Bard alumna Anne Bogart, co-founder of the acclaimed SITI Company, who has been recognized with two “Best Director” Obies and the Jesse L. Rosenberger Medal for Outstanding Achievement in Creative & Performing Arts. Starring tenor Clay Hilley, winner of the New York Wagner Society’s Robert Lauch Award, with music director Leon Botstein leading the American Symphony Orchestra and the Bard Festival Chorale under James Bagwell, Dmitrij’s five performances take place on Bard’s glorious Hudson Valley campus in the striking Frank Gehry-designed Fisher Center on August 2, 4, and 6.

The Bard Music Festival also offers an all-too-rare opportunity to see Halka (1858), on Saturday, August 19, the four-act masterwork with which Stanisław Moniuszko ensured his legacy as the father of Polish opera. Set to a politically charged libretto, Halka is regularly performed in Poland but remains virtually unknown abroad, despite being “redolent with the melodic flavors of Polish folk music and balladry” (New York Times), and welcomed as “melodious, affecting and appealing … a rare treat” (Washington Post).

London’s Times Literary Supplement lauds Bard SummerScape as “the most intellectually ambitious of America’s summer music festivals.” The New Yorker calls it “one of the major upstate festivals,” while Bloomberg News calls it, “the smartest mix of events within driving distance of New York.” Travel and Leisure reports, “Gehry’s acclaimed concert hall provides a spectacular venue for innovative fare.” The New York Times calls SummerScape “a hotbed of intellectual and aesthetic adventure,” Newsday finds it “brave and brainy,” Huffington Post dubs it “a highbrow hotbed of culture,” Musical America judges it “awesomely intensive,” GALO (Global Art Laid Out) magazine considers it “one of the great artistic treasure chests of the tri-state area and the country,” Time Out New York names it one of “New York’s 20 coolest out-of-town spots,” and the International Herald Tribune pronounces it “seven weeks of cultural delight.” As the New York Sun observes, “Bard … offers one of the best lineups of the summer for fans of any arts discipline.” Summarizing SummerScape’s manifold appeal, the New York Post confesses, “It’s hard not to find something to like, and it’s even harder to beat the setting: the gleaming, Frank Gehry-designed Fisher Performing Arts Center in bucolic Annandale-on-Hudson.”

Tickets and information can be found at 845 758 7900, or fishercenter.bard.edu. Packages are available which include dinner, tickets to the opera, and after hours dancing at the fabulous Belgian Spiegeltent.

Reverence/Remembrance at the Erpf Gallery
Fine art photographer Kevin Q. Gray has had the great privilege of being a Platte Clove Artist-in-Residence twice since 2012.
During his first residency, he focused on the incredible landscape that surrounded him, and in his second he explored his memory of his mother who instilled in him a strong reverence for nature and was the first to take him to the Catskill Mountains. This exhibit explores both bodies of work: digital photographic prints of Plattekill Clove and the surrounding region, and traditional wet plate tintypes of Kevin’s mother’s most precious objects, photographed and processed at the Clove.

Reverence/Remembrance will be on display through Friday, September 1 at the Catskill Center’s Erpf Gallery located at 43355 Route 28, Arkville, NY. There will be an Artist Reception on Friday, September 1, from 4 to 6 pm.

The Erpf Gallery is open Monday through Friday from 9:30 am to 4:30 pm and Saturday from 10 am to 2 pm. For more chatting with the owner at the Bull and Garland—the new English-style pub in Hobart, NY—the subject of hiking came up. Where can we go with our toddler, he wanted to know, where it wouldn’t be a back country adventure but just a pleasant afternoon stroll. We just want to take a nice walk, he admitted, not challenge ourselves or conquer the wilderness. Family friendly and low key outdoor experiences, for folks that aren’t hardcore peakbaggers, can seem elusive despite the opportunities that abound.

Wonderful short hikes and family destinations abound, but it’s important to remember that the moniker “Catskill Park” doesn’t mean a park in the same sense as Central Park or Prospect Park. The Catskill Park itself is an administrative designation, not an actual “park.” As such, you won’t find a specific or singular “Catskill Park” per se, that offers a front country experience comparable to what you find at a national park. However, within the Catskill Park, you can find great town and county parks—with parklike amenities such as restrooms, swing sets, and hibachi grills—and lots of opportunities for family friendly, easy and short adventures in nature.

Just north of the Catskill Park boundary in Schoharie County, the rolling farmland and quiet forests beckon. Mine Kill State Park, located on Route 30 in North Blenheim, NY offers everything a family could want, from an Olympic sized swimming pool, nature trails, and kayak rentals to disc golf. Be sure to check out Mine Kill Falls, accessed from a separate parking area also on Route 30. A short trail leads you directly to the base of these dramatic and picturesque falls. For more information visit parks.ny.gov/parks/165/details.aspx.

In Greene County, New York State’s Department of Environmental Conservation’s North-South Lake has a delightful beach for swimming and extensive parking. Short and not-so-short hiking opportunities, and squeaky clean restrooms make this an easy place to bring children. There is a large campground—excellent for introducing camping without the stress and strain of backpacking—and plenty of room for day use as well. The trail to the Catskill Mountain House site rewards you with incredible views so it’s worth the short walk to check it out. For more information visit www.dec.ny.gov/outdoor/24487.html.

Also in Greene County, The Windham Path with parking just outside the village of Windham on Route 23, offers a great nature experience in a small sized package. The path winds through meadows and over a gorgeous bridge, and is perfect for jogging, strolling, or even pushing a “four wheel drive” stroller. Slightly more oriented to the hiker or nature enthusiast, the Windham Path does not provide restrooms or other amenities. When you look up at the mountains that surround you, though, you probably won’t mind.

How about a safe, easy way to view Kaaterskill Falls with children? Sure, the walk from the parking area on Route 23A to the trail head isn’t that far, but with a couple of kids in tow it can be rather hair-raising! Park at the newly expanded lot at the end of Laurel House Road and stroll down the trail to the viewing platform. You’ll be rewarded with a fabulous view of the falls, and the grade is so gentle you can push a stroller or wheelchair if need be. Just keep a close eye on the kids and stick to the viewing platform for the safest and best experience.

Heading south into Ulster County, stop in at the Catskill Interpretive Center, on Route 28 in Mount Tremper. The center offers a wealth of information about the recreational opportunities in the area in air conditioned comfort—with rest rooms. A short level hiking loop, a streamside trail across Route 28, and a lovely woodland hiking trail to a picnic area offer the ability to check out the various Catskill ecosystems.
The Catskill Center for Conservation and Development owns two preserves: the Thorn Preserve outside Woodstock and the Platte Clove Preserve near Tannersville. Visit the Thorn preserve to walk in mowed paths in a meadow looking up at the spectacular mountains looming nearby. No bathrooms or other amenities at this location, a visit to the Thorn Preserve is great to pair with a visit to the village of Woodstock.

The Platte Clove Preserve, tucked into a dramatic ravine-rich area adjacent to the Indian Head Wilderness, is one of those “long drive, short walk” options. Not exactly close to anything, and accessed by a seasonal road, this walk downhill to a waterfall almost didn’t make it onto this list. However, the walk to the waterfall is indeed short and doable for children (supervision required!), and the payoff is so worth it. The falls are dramatic and the pool at the bottom of the falls is quintessential Catskills.

For more information on the Catskill Center for Conservation and Development properties, visit www.catskillcenter.org/projects/.

The Woodstock Land Conservancy also offers a number of truly lovely opportunities to dip into the Catskills’ natural beauty. Sloan Gorge, the Comeau lands, and other parcels offer a variety of small bites, perfect for half day adventures near Woodstock’s bustling main street. Check out the WLC website at www.woodstocklandconservancy.org/index.php for a list of properties, detailed parking information, and trail maps.
Also in Ulster County, the DEC’s Kenneth L. Wilson Campground has plenty of room to stretch your legs, explore nature, and create an adventure that’s the right size for your kids (or parents!). Canoe or kayak rentals, fishing and hiking, and picnic tables or pavilions (and don’t forget those restrooms)—this is another fun and easy place to take the kids in central Ulster County.

Belleayre Beach at Pine Hill Lake in Highmount, NY is another gem of an option for a family day in the Catskills. Lifeguards, playgrounds, pavilions, and access to hiking trails in the Catskill Forest Preserve make this a fabulous place to sample a variety of recreational offerings. More information can be found at www.belleayre.com/summer/belleayre-beach/fun-beach-activities-and-rentals

Town parks throughout the Catskill Region allow families that perfect combination of convenience and outdoor fun. Some have more amenities than others, but swing sets or playgrounds, picnic tables, and grills are available at many. From Clarence D. Lane Park in Maplecrest to Davis Park in West Shokan, sample a few to see which is your favorite!

Rail trails are another sure thing for the “keep it short and easy” crowd. You can hop on the Catskill Scenic Trail at any number of spots along its 26 mile route from Bloomville to Roxbury, but many folks love the Bloomville and South Kortright sections. Andes offers a rail trail walking distance from the center of town, and Pine Hill also has a peaceful section of track that is perfect for strolling and combining with additional trails if you want more. Hurley’s rail trail has parking on Route 209 and is a favorite for biking as well as walking running and even roller blading.

Arguably the very loveliest of all the Catskill short strolls is the Frypan Road in Olive. The road runs adjacent to the Ashokan Reservoir and is closed to vehicular traffic—walkers, joggers, strollers, rollerblades, bicycles, tricycles—you name it! Just please leave the dog at home: this area does not permit Fido. Parking can be accessed in a couple of different spacious lots just off Route 213. Do as much or as little as you like: the full monte is five mile round trip. Views of the reservoir and the Devil’s Path peaks, as well as the Broughs Range and the trailless peaks will leave you breathless.

Don’t forget to slow down enough to enjoy nature right where you are: bald eagles are often spotted from the supermarket parking lot in a number of Catskill villages. Whether you are visiting or own a home here, don’t overlook the opportunities for enjoying Catskillian flora and fauna right in your own backyard. Bring binoculars and a camera everywhere you go, because amazing sights tend to pop up unannounced, from butterflies to bears!

When and if you decide to take that next step, visit www.dec.ny.gov/outdoor/77168.html. This page created by the DEC is a fabulous resource for hikers. You’ll find driving directions for getting to those remote trailheads here.

Heather Rolland is the president of the Catskill 3500 Club. She is a volunteer trail maintainer for NYS DEC and also volunteers for dog rescues and wildlife rehabilitation efforts. She hikes every day with her pack of Belgian and Dutch shepherds, posts as Catskillshalia on Instagram, and maintains the blog “Yoga Pants, Hiking Boots” on wordpress.

DEFY: THE WOMEN’S MARCH ON WASHINGTON PHOTOGRAPHS BY MAGGIE UHALDE THROUGH SEPTEMBER 10

On January 21, 2017, there was a march in Washington DC. Through September 10, the Kaaterskill Fine Arts & Crafts Gallery will revisit that march with “DEFY: The Women’s March on Washington,” an exhibition of photos taken by Margaret Uhalde at the Women’s March.

In addition to large pieces for sale, the exhibition will feature a wall of small photos that gallery-goers may take with them, in exchange for a donation to the Greene County Domestic Violence Shelter. “I chose to make the donation box for the shelter because domestic violence is not an exclusive problem, and it’s a local problem as well,” says Uhalde. “It touches every social class, gender, sexuality, race—unfortunately, it’s everywhere.” Uhalde hopes that the exhibition will reach across political barriers and keep important conversations on the table.

“I covered the march like I was shooting a documentary because all of the issues that people were marching for are not partisan issues. If you’re an American that cares about your health and safety, you have a responsibility to care about the health and safety of other Americans. That’s just it,” explains Uhalde.
