Fire!: An Exhibition of Ceramic Art Curated by Peter Yamaoka at Roxbury Arts Group

The Walt Meade Gallery at the Roxbury Arts Center is currently hosting Fire!, an exhibition of ceramic art featuring work by Solveig Comer, Megan Irving, Kim L’Heureux, Tony Moore, Elizabeth Nields, Gerda van Leeuwen, and Peter Yamaoka. Fire! will be on view through March 2, 2019.

Curated by Peter Yamaoka, Fire! is a survey of ceramic artists living and working in and around the Catskills. The artists selected for this exhibition represent a spectrum of stylistic approaches, firing techniques, and artistic vision. Most of the artists maintain fully equipped ceramic studios and many offer classes and workshops open to the public for novices to technically advanced potters.

Gallery Coordinator Solveig Comer shares, “The wide variety of ceramic artwork in Fire! challenges the viewer to consider alternative means for expression. Despite limited palettes and processes wrought with challenges, complex imagery and deep meaning are evoked by each piece in the show. It is a pleasure to welcome these warm works of art into our gallery at this time of year!”

Fire! introduces the abundance of ceramic artists in our region to a wider public audience. Solveig Comer is primarily involved in the production of utilitarian vessels. This production employs various ceramic techniques, enhanced by patterns found in the textiles and in nature.

The work of Megan Irving’s wall pieces are miniature landscapes in clay involving glaze washes and dry point incisions in her unique approach to the medium. They evoke natural elements such as landmarks and animals. These small and intimate pieces depict scenic vistas of the Catskill Region.

Kim L’Heureux is a skilled potter with vast knowledge of materials and firing techniques. Her experience yields stunningly beautiful ceramic vessels that delight in the landscapes of upstate New York. She mixes all her clay and glazes from scratch. Her interest in firing in reduction with “flame” kilns demonstrate how she likes to play with fire.

Tony Moore operates a wood-fired, Anagama-Noborigama kiln which is a unique and labor intensive firing technique which requires a team effort of round the clock firewood stoking and supervision. The firing process can take up to several days to complete. These firings yield surprising glaze variations and subtle effects unique to this process. His work conveys the beauty of nature in all its forms and his newest work evokes the enigma of the human condition. His work also pays homage to the Japanese Mingei (folk art) tradition which utilizes similar firing and reduction processes.

Elizabeth Nields operates several kilns at her studio, covering a wide range of firing techniques including electric, gas reduction, and salt reduction. Her inner landscapes are a conversation with the clay and herself, expressing her inner feelings about the organic nature of clay and glazes that enhance her work. She feels the fire of the kiln enlivens everything about the nature of her medium.

Gerda van Leeuwen’s porcelain figurines are a tribute to the Catskill Mountain animal world. Her animal figures are often endowed with humanity emphasizing the link between man and animal. Her work is inspired by the tradition of European Renaissance painting and the funeral ornaments of the Tang Dynasty of China.

The work of Peter Yamaoka, curator of this exhibit, can be divided into three categories: Power of Myth, Archeological Ruins, and Beauty of the Catskill Landscape. His work often tells a story and this narrative content can be seen throughout his work. His ceramics reflect his Asian cultural heritage and European art education. He works primarily in mid-rage firing techniques with vibrant colors inherent in the firing process.

The Walt Meade Gallery is located at the Roxbury Arts Center, 5025 Vega Mountain Road in Roxbury. Gallery hours for this exhibition are Tuesdays through Saturdays, from 10 am to 3 pm. Fire! will be on view through March 2, 2019. For more information about Fire! or other events at the Roxbury Arts Center, visit roxburyartsgroup.org or call the Roxbury Arts Group at 607 326 7908.

All exhibits in 2019 are sponsored by Roxbury Wine and Spirits. All programs offered by the Roxbury Arts Group are supported by the A. Lindsay and Olive B. O’Connor Foundation, the Robinson Broadhurst Foundation, the New York State Council on the Arts, with the support of Gov. Andrew Cuomo and the NYS Legislature, The Tianaderrah Foundation, WIOX Community Radio, the Delaware National Bank of Delhi, and by the generosity of business sponsors and individual donors.

Saugerties Pro Musica Presents International Organ Virtuoso Gregory D’Agostino

On Saturday February 17, 2019 at 3 pm, Saugerties Pro Musica is pleased to welcome back Gregory D’Agostino, international organ virtuoso. One of America’s most exciting concert organists, Gregory D’Agostino creates a thrilling sense of drama that has been described as a “stunning, controlled delirium” by The American Organist magazine. Praised by The New York Times for his “deft, powerful performances,” Mr. D’Agostino has performed on three continents at such well-known venues as New York’s Lincoln Center, London’s St. Paul’s Cathedral, Paris’ Notre Dame Cathedral, Radio Hall Bratislava, Hong Kong’s St. John’s Cathedral, Tokyo’s Suntory Hall, West Point Military Academy, Charleston’s Piccolo Spoleto Festival, and San Diego’s Balboa Park. He has performed in festivals in Paris, London, St. Petersburg, Prague, Olomouc, Krakow, Zabrze, and Tokyo, and has appeared as soloist with Japan’s NHK Symphony (live HD-TV), Moscow Chamber Orchestra, Hong Kong Philharmonic, Slovak Radio Orchestra, Mainly Mozart Festival Orchestra, American Classical Orchestra, Fairfax Symphony, Fairfield Orchestra, and the Charleston Symphony. For the 100th anniversary of the American Guild of Organists, Mr. D’Agostino performed two different memorized programs including the premiere of Dan Locklair’s Organ Concerto before an audience of 3,400 at St. John the Divine, New York.

All Saugerties Pro Musica concerts take place at United Methodist Church, on the corners of Washington Avenue (#67) and Post Street in Saugerties. Tickets are $15 and $12 with all students admitted free. For more information please visit saugertiespromusica.org or call 845 679 5733.

Brian Dewan is one of Catskill’s most beloved and admired artists and multi-instrumentalists. He makes films, drawings, musical instruments and is a regular reader of original poems at 394 Spoken, the monthly poetry reading series in Catskill.

Brian’s art work is represented by Pierogi gallery in New York City. His I-CAN-SEE filmstrips have been screened at The Whitney Museum Of American Art, The New Museum, The Brooklyn Museum, The Tang Museum, Modern Art Oxford and The Museum Of Jurassic Technology. All of the images in the filmstrips are ink and watercolor paintings or ink and marker drawings.

His published audio recordings include Tells The Story, The Operating Theater, Words Of Wisdom, The Hunting Of The Snark and Ringing At The Speed Of Prayer. Dewan performs narrative songs, collected historical folk and popular music, sung with accompaniment on electric zither, autoharp or accordion as well as instrumental music for organ, musical stones, electronic instruments, bells and percussion.

The Kaaterskill Fine Arts Gallery is thrilled to start 2019’s exhibition program with a solo exhibit of Brian Dewan’s work. Populated Areas is a collection of imaginary portraits, landscapes and habitats. Sometimes a being is the subject and the habitat is background, sometimes the habitation is the subject and the beings are ornamental. There is plenty of free play between the animate and the inanimate. Is it animal or mineral? These beings are not concerned with distinguishing between the two.

After a day on the slopes, there's really nothing better than some good comfort food and a great beer. It's really that simple. Hunter Mountain Brewery is a place for simplicity. Good food, good beer, and good service. Simple is the name of the game, and we are good at finding it in all the right places. Come join us and experience what simplicity tastes like.

Our Beer
Here at Hunter Mountain Brewery we are all about the love of beer. New and bold flavors enter our doors every week, and we can't help but show them off. While we enjoy the classics, we are always passionate about discovering something new, so stop by and experience our craft at its best.

Our Food
Each item on their menu is handmade at the crack of dawn, using only the simplest of ingredients to bring out smells and flavors that beckon the whole block.

POETRY

Curated by Robert Tomlinson
Kaaterskill Fine Arts Gallery & Bookstore Director

GREENE COUNTY

Upstate New York, writers’ well-traveled country: another writer walks a country lane, sniffing the air, swatting at flies. A Sunday peace hangs over all. The evening rain is still two hours away. My eye is caught by yellows, whites, and purples – all the life that riots in the bar ditch at my foot. Seen from a car, with nothing but a brief sideways glance, a bushel of confetti tossed by the road, but viewed from close at hand, one yellow splits into three flowers – a pretty pineapple-shaped affair, a long-stemmed fan dividing into five inverted hearts, each with a smaller mussel shell below, and a deep, five-pointed star that hugs the dirt with round-leafed runners. But I do not know their names and cannot give them names myself -- I am no Adam, and this isn’t Eden – and, lacking names, the flowers stay but half-perceived, oddly. It seems the classic Western movie cliché applies here, where the old cowpuncher meets a stranger and demands, “What’s your handle, Pardner?” To take hold requires a handle. Namelessness withstands all efforts made to apprehend it. We can’t think what we can’t say. Could it be true we can’t see what we cannot name? The bee with her instinctive knowledge fumbling through this blossom is responding to a shape, a smell, a color, signifying food. A stimulus and a response – no gap between perception and the understood.

But “I am Two with Nature.” Woody’s quip hits home. Our school-taught, scientific means serve us but poorly. How can we sum up without encoded knowledge in the genes?

Back from my walk, I scan this country home’s bookshelves for a field guide which has full-color illustrations, gives the names both Latin and familiar, and details the virtues of each pod and tender shoot, will say a poultice of the cat-tail’s fur can ease the chicken pox, or that its root was used by fullers, whatever fullers were.

The volume found, a casual study yields a plethora of names, the legacy of Indian killers, farmers in their fields, and country parsons on an idle day.

Their souls infused with God and apple brandy, they broke and named the land with plow and axe, a taste for metaphor, and an ear for the spondee – Harebell. Cowbane. Sneezeweed. Skullcap. Toadflax. Names stiff upon the tongue, archaic as the rusted iron contraptions seen behind the wreckage of a barn, drowning in grass. Manmade and natural there lie intertwined, almost at peace, unlike this room where fact and recollection war, imperiling a hesitant attempt in retrospect to pair a picture with a living thing.

The few that match in memory will become additions to the dog-eared mental chart called, “Things I Think I Know” – a plant and name, a place, a world, my own divided heart.

ELEGY

"A Frog Dies and a World Vanishes"

New York Times

Alas, Rabb’s fringed-limbed tree frog is now extinct, has croaked its last before croaking indeed, and only eleven years after its discovery in a mountain forest near the pleasant Panamanian town of El Valle de Antón, having had the misfortune to live on land wanted for the construction of luxury homes. No longer will it sail from tree to tree, gliding on air with its extensive toe webbings. No longer will the male, an inspiration to all fathers, lower himself into the water-filled and nutrient-poor cavities of the plants where his mate had laid her eggs to hatch, and allow the hungry tadpoles to rasp the skin from his back with their tiny tongues, thus nourishing his line. Cannot all poets identify with this painful necessity to nourish our lines with our living flesh as the frog does? And reading of the species’ fate, do we not feel a chill of recognition as we foresee the inevitable day our lines are lost?

TOO HOT NOT TO COOL DOWN

—Reagan Upshaw

THE ACCOUNT

She said, “Each night he went to bed earlier than I did. After an hour or two, when TV re-runs had made me sleepy, I would climb the stairs and crawl into bed next to him. He would turn on his side, facing away from me, and I would press myself to his back so we could sleep like spoons. I was always cold, especially in winter, and the chill from my hands would give him a shock, causing a quick intake of breath as I put my arms around him. My hand would find his fingers, and the sole of my foot would rest against his shin. Then he would rock me gently with his body for a moment and drift back to sleep. Then I would sleep. I miss him now.”

I thought of them, body to body, sharing warmth, neither his nor hers but belonging to both, becoming almost one, as close as a molecule of carbon dioxide passed back and forth between their lungs as they inhaled and exhaled in their sleep.

Sam’s Point Preserve, located in Cragsmoor, is one of the most beloved natural wonders in the Hudson Valley and Catskills. Visitors from all over the country flock here to experience the incredible hikes, waterfalls, ice caves, and cliff views. Follow the hashtag #SamsPoint on Instagram and you’ll find dizzying shots of visitors testing fate on the edge of the cliff, plus some of the most incredible sunset views you’ll ever see. Here are five ways to experience Sam’s Point.

THE HIKES
No matter your reason for visiting Sam’s Point, whatever you’re looking to experience, it likely starts with a hike. Located in the southernmost section of Minnewaska State Park, this 5,000-acre preserve in the northern Shawangunk Mountains features 16 miles of carriage roads and trails for exploration, from challenging climbs to leisurely jaunts. Along the way you’ll witness quaint Huckleberry Pickers shacks, dwarf pine barrens, breathtaking waterfalls, and—if the season permits—those epic ice caves everyone talks about (if you’re out of the loop, just google “Sam’s Point Ice Caves” and prepare to have your mind blown).

THE WATERFALLS
Sam’s Point is commonly known as one of the most beautiful areas in the region, and nowhere is the reputation more obviously earned than at Verkeerderkill Falls, the highest waterfall in the area, which feeds from Lake Maratanza. Fittingly, the hike to the falls across the Long Path trail is one of the most difficult, but great things await those up for the challenge: specifically, 187 feet of rushing water cascading off the picturesque Shawangunk cliffs.

THE ICE CAVES
Remember the beginning of Raiders of the Lost Ark, when Indy descends into the ancient Peruvian temple to retrieve the golden idol? The Ice Caves are a little bit like that, minus the booby traps, giant rolling boulders, and priceless artifacts. These majestic, mysterious caverns are potent reminders of nature’s enormity—and a great spot to capture numerous photo memories you’ll want to share for a lifetime. A solar panel powers lights inside the cave for easy guidance, while wooden handrails and ladders offer some man-made assistance through the more treacherous passages. The caves typically close through the winter months, so be sure to check New York State Parks and Recreation for notices on cave access and trail closures.

LAKE MARATANZA
To get to those ice caves, your path will take you across Lake Maratanza (don't worry, no swimming necessary), a glacial lake worth visiting in its own right. At 2,245 feet above sea level, it's the highest lake in the Shawangunks, and its tranquil waters and remote location have made it an appealing stop for hikers. It also provides drinking water to the nearby village of Ellenville, which owned the entirety of Sam's Point Preserve until selling it to the Open Space Institute in 1997.

SAM'S POINT PROPER
Though Sam's Point Preserve encompasses a large swath of land, its namesake is one very specific cliff you won't want to miss. Time your trip to the top correctly and incredible views of the valley will eventually yield to one of the most awe-inspiring sunsets you're likely to ever witness. As a bonus, history buffs will enjoy walking the mythical path at the heart of the cliff's name.

While it is hard to say what typical winter weather might be nowadays, suffice to say this past January has been a little tough to prepare for and react to. We have had snowfalls, frigid temperatures, warmer temperatures, winds, and rain and then back to cold and snow here in the Catskills. This has all led to a multitude of conditions on the trails for those looking to get out on skis, snowshoes or crampons or just in their hiking boots! The best advice I can think of going into February is to be prepared for anything in the mountains. Conditions can and do change quickly in the mountains and if you are on the trails in the winter months, you should be spending more time on planning as there is less room for mistakes and errors because of the cold temperatures, generally higher winds, snow, ice and limited daylight hours. Be sure to check out the regularly updated trail conditions posted by the Catskill Interpretive Center—they’ll help you know before you go!

February is a very important time in the political life of the Catskills and the Catskill Park. At the State Capital in Albany, this is the time of the year when budgets are being made and priorities are being assessed and discussed. Organizations like the Catskill Center are working hard to raise awareness of the needs of the Catskills and through efforts like Catskill Park Day (February 5), using that opportunity to positively influence the Catskills through the budgeting process.

Think all the hiking trails of the Catskills are in the high peaks region? Think again! Thanks to Trailkeeper we have the top five winter hikes in Sullivan County, which is home to the southwestern Catskills and some real gems of trails.

Catskill Park Day is Tuesday, February 5! Help Support the Catskills!

Do your part and help the Catskills! Each year in February the Catskill Park Coalition gathers in Albany to meet with legislators to discuss the urgent needs of the Catskill Park and Forest Preserve. This annual Catskill Park Day event has generated historic funding for the region and for the Catskill Park. In years past, this support has helped lead to the development of the Catskill Interpretive Center, inclusion of new public land in the Catskill Park and many other significant improvements in the infrastructure, management and operation of the Catskill Park.

Organized by the Catskill Park Coalition, which is co-chaired by the Catskill Center, the 2019 Catskill Park Awareness Day will be held on Tuesday, February 5, 2019 in Albany. This day is an opportunity for supporters of the Catskills to have their voice heard in Albany and to make a difference in the support and funding that the Park receives.

For more information visit catskillcenter.org/events/catskill-parkday2019, call the Catskill Center at 845 586 2611 or e-mail them at cccd@catskillcenter.org. It’s a great opportunity to get involved in your government and let your representatives know you value the Catskill Park.

If you can’t make it on the 5th, a phone call or a letter to your representatives can be just as effective! Budget season last through April, so continued calls and letters are very helpful over the next few months to let legislators in Albany and the Governor know that the Catskills are important to you!

Weekly Updated Trail Conditions Now Available for the Catskills

Know before you go! The Catskill Center through its Catskill Interpretive Center provides Trail Conditions for the Catskills that are updated weekly on Thursday evenings. The regularly updated trail conditions are being published on the Catskill Interpretive Center’s website at catskillinterpretivecenter.org/trail.

Visit the Catskill Park’s Visitor Center

Before you embark on any adventure in the Catskills, be sure to stop at the Park’s official Visitor Center, the Maurice D. Hinchen Catskill Interpretive Center! Located at 5096 Route 28 in Mount Tremper, the Catskill Interpretive Center is your gateway to the Catskills and the official visitor center for the Catskill Park, where you can learn about the vast outdoor recreational opportunities in the area as well as, discover Catskill communities and rich cultural and natural history.

The Catskill Interpretive Center is open seven days a week from 8 am to 3 pm. At the Center, you can explore the interpretive exhibits, gather information and speak with knowledgeable staff about the Catskill Park and region. In addition to information, exhibits and staff, the Center is home to more than a mile of walking paths, fishing access to the Esopus Creek and a sculpture trail, featuring the work of local artists and artists who have been inspired by the Catskills.

The Catskill Interpretive Center is also home to numerous events and activities throughout the summer, including Family Days, interactive workshops and presentations, a Catskill Mountain Book Festival, guided outdoor adventures and more!

You can visit Catskill Interpretive Center.org, call 845 688 3369, or email info@catskillcenter.org for more information.

Top 5 Winter Hikes in Sullivan County

Have you explored the trails of the Sullivan County Catskills? Thanks to the Trailkeeper Network we have a list of the five best cross-country ski and snowshoe trails in the Sullivan County region. Take them as an excuse to avoid winter hibernation during the colder months and get out exploring the Catskills, either by foot, skis or snowshoes this winter. For more information on any of these trips, you can visit trailkeeper.org, an online outlet for hiking trails and public lands in Sullivan County.

When it comes to some great places to start, here are the top five cross-country ski and snowshoe trips from Trailkeeper:

- Willowemoc Forest’s Frick Pond Trail
  (voted NY’s 10 best winter hikes by I Love NY!)
- Walnut Mountain Park (Liberty, NY)
- Bashakill D&H towpath (Wurtsboro, NY)
- Tusten Mountain Trail, Neversink Unique Area
  (Narrowsburg, NY)
- Shawangunk Region Trail (Rockhill, NY)

Never tried a winter hike and need some guidance? A great place to start and for outdoor gear rentals, visit Morgan Outdoors on Main Street in Livingston Manor, NY or call 845 439 5507.

Catskill Park Advisory Committee

Did you know that there is a group of Catskill Park stakeholders working together to address issues of park-wide importance in the Catskills? The Catskill Park Advisory Committee (CPAC) was established by the Catskill Center in consultation with New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) several years ago. The CPAC is a group of representatives from local governments and organizations currently chaired by the Catskill Center and provides a forum for communities and user groups of the Catskill Park and the Catskill Watershed. The purpose of the Committee is to provide assistance, advice and guidance to the DEC, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection and other land managers in the management of the New York State Forest Preserve, the Catskill Park and the Catskill Watershed.

Meetings are held quarterly and are open to the public. If you’d like to learn more, join the mailing list or attend the next meeting, please contact the Catskill Center at 845 586 2611 or email them at cccd@catskillcenter.org.

Give Back to the Catskills

The natural beauty, the majesty of the mountains, the protection of the Catskill Forest Preserve, the region’s natural and cultural resources, all needs your help! By supporting the work of the Catskill Center, you support: stewardship of our Catskill Park and its vast natural resources; the Center’s collaborative spirit as we convene, create partnerships and facilitate discussions that benefit the region; and the Center’s work to support education, arts and culture throughout the Catskills.

To support the work of the Catskill Center, become a member online through their website at catskillcenter.org/membership or donate by mail: Checks made out to the “Catskill Center” can be mailed to Catskill Center, PO Box 504, Arkville, NY 12406.

Winter at Minnewaska

The Park Preserve is located on the dramatic Shawangunk Ridge in Ulster County, New York. The Ridge, which rises more than 2,000 feet above sea level, dominates the Park Preserve and the pastoral valleys below it. The Park Preserve has an extensive trail network that traverses the landscape. This network includes 35 miles of carriage roads and 50 miles of footpaths that provide access to countless natural attractions.

Winter is an excellent time to explore the Park Preserve, as the landscape changes and outstanding cross-country skiing opportunities are plentiful. Minnewaska offers over 26 kilometers of machine-groomed trails for all ability levels, providing both classic and skate skiing opportunities. The breathtaking vistas throughout the groomed trail network are amazing. Be sure to bring your camera to capture some of the unique winter landscapes, ice formations and animal tracks.

For those who prefer a slower pace, Park Educators offer regularly scheduled winter ecology and recreational snowshoe outings throughout the winter, as conditions warrant. Numerous snowshoeing opportunities are available on footpaths and ungroomed carriage roads, but snowshoeing is not permitted on the groomed cross-country ski trails. Hiking, walking, dogs and fat tire biking are also not allowed on Minnewaska’s groomed cross-country ski trails.

Groomed Cross-Country Ski Trails

Lake Minnewaska Carriage Road: This two-mile loop, which is the starting point for all other trails, consists of a mixture of hills and relatively level areas of terrain. It features outstanding views of the 34-acre Lake, as well as the Catskills and the Wallkill Valley, from vistas close to the carriage road.

Upper Awosting Carriage Road: This approximately three-mile long route slowly climbs in elevation as it reaches its southern end at the pristine Lake Awosting. Lake Awosting is the largest of the sky lakes at 93 acres. With fewer turns and more level terrain, less experienced skiers may find this trail a good match for their abilities.

Lake Awosting Carriage Road: A short, but somewhat steep section of this carriage road is groomed and acts as a connector route between the modest Upper Awosting Carriage Road and the more challenging Castle Point Carriage Road. It features lakeside views of the remote Lake Awosting.

Castle Point Carriage Road: At just over four-and-a-half-miles, this route is the longest single route that takes you to one of the highest points in the Park Preserve at 2,193 feet in elevation. This route showcases some of the most spectacular views, featuring numerous cliffside, panoramic views of the Palmaghatt Ravine, Catskill Mountains, Wallkill and Hudson Valley. More experienced skiers will enjoy the hills and turns on this most scenic route. An approximately ten-mile loop can be skied by combining this trail with the two prior routes.

Hamilton Point Carriage Road: This cliff-hugging route, which connects the Lake Minnewaska and Castle Point Carriage Roads, offers stunning views of the western wall of the Palmaghatt Ravine along nearly its entire length. At nearly three miles long, this nearly straight route includes gradual hills as well as more flat areas. Farther along the carriage road, the Hamilton Point vista showcases views of the majestic Hudson Valley, as well as unique crevice-filled rock formations in the foreground.
Millbrook Mountain Carriage Road: If you’re looking for a shorter ski with lovely views, this two-and-a-half-mile route offers a combination of gradual hills along a modestly twisting route. A magnificent vista overlooking the Palmaghatt Ravine is located 0.8 miles from the northern end of this route. Look for a large, white, quartz boulder perched on the edge of the cliff here. This glacial erratic, named Patterson’s Pellet, was transported here by a glacier thousands of years ago. At the southern end of this trail, skiers willing to remove their skis are rewarded with the expansive view from atop the famous white cliffs that are visible from New Paltz.

Scenic Footpaths Perfect for Snowshoeing, Mostly in the Peter’s Kill Area

Bullwheel Footpath: This gradually climbing, half-mile-long trail brings hikers past the site of a former ski lift located here in the 1970s. It connects with the High Peter’s Kill Footpath, offering visitors the opportunity to walk a loop which includes the High Peterskill, Yellow Connector and Red Loop Footpath. This loop is approximately two-and-a-half miles long.

High Peter’s Kill Footpath: This route features a mixture of terrain from streamside and level to steep hills with cliff edge views. For the adventurous, an approximately five-mile-loop can be walked which brings hikers past Awosting Falls. The return trip follows along the modest Awosting Falls Carriage Road. This footpath can be accessed from both the Peter’s Kill Area and the Awosting Parking Area.

Red Loop Footpath: At just over three-quarters of a mile, this pretty route features a steep hill which leads to a lovely, stream-edge section of trail before climbing more gradually back up hill through a quiet forest. Connect this trail with the Bull Wheel or Yellow Connector Footpaths, also in the Peter’s Kill Area of the Park Preserve, to create longer loops.

A perfect winter escape, Minnewaska State Park Preserve is uniquely located less than 13 miles from the New York State Thruway exit 18 in New Paltz, closer to New York City than the Catskills. After spending your day skiing or snowshoeing on the extensive trail system in this spectacular 23,000 acre Park Preserve, you can enjoy a wide selection of restaurants, local theater, wineries and other amenities within less than a half hour drive in the local communities around the Park Preserve boundaries.

A Visitor Center, which is currently under design, will provide a central area for visitors to gather and embark on their Minnewaska adventures. The Visitor Center will feature a fireplace for winter warming, dramatically improving our visitor experience. The Open Space Institute is raising private funds for our new Minnewaska Visitor Center. Please visit openspaceinstitute.org/places/minnewaska-visitor-center-campaign to donate or learn more.

Park staff works closely with the local not for profit organization the Shawangunk Nordic Ski Association SNSA to host public ski races and clinics. SNSA Members contribute their expertise by providing ski lessons and race administration. Their website, skithegunks.com, is a good resource for obtaining current conditions from skiers’ perspectives. Minnewaska State Park Preserve also hosts Section 9 high school ski races.

Please be prepared for your outing, always be in tune with the weather forecast, and bring enough food and water. Bring your cell phone and make sure it is charged. Carry a map and let someone know where you are heading, especially if you are alone on your outing. For updated ski conditions, please visit Minnewaska’s webpage: parks.ny.gov/parks/127 or call the Park Preserve office at 845 255 0752.

Races are an outlet of fun on the ski slopes and provide competition on the snow. Plattekill hosts two kids races throughout the season, as well as a USASA Catskill Mountain Snowboard GS and Slalom Snowboard Race. Plattekill also hosts Section 4 local school ski races on the mountain, as well as fun races for ski clubs. And to cap off another great season, a highlight of Plattekill’s annual Winterfest is the Plattekill Cup Race.

The USASA Catskill Mountain Snowboard GS and Slalom Snowboard Race takes place at Plattekill on February 2. The Catskill Mountain Series events offer a true grassroots competition experience allowing aspiring snowboarders of all ages to get together and put their racing skills to the test. Eastern Regional Athletes of all ages can complete to achieve National points, to qualify for the USASA National Championships and to receive recognition for their efforts in the sports of snowboarding and freestyle skiing. USASA also makes stops at other local Catskill ski mountains as a part of this race series.

Plattekill held the first Kids Cup Ski Race on January 26 and will hold the second on February 9, starting at 1pm. Open to all ages up to age 17, the Kids Cup courses are GS races with the best of two runs. There are separate age categories for male and female skiers. Kids need to register for the races earlier in the day, so be sure to arrive early!

The Plattekill Cup Race takes place every year during Winterfest—this year it’s March 2—which is a ski patrol fundraiser with a Brooks’ BBQ dinner and torchlight parade. The Plattekill Cup Race is open to all ages, including adults.

Plattekill is also the home mountain for the Roxbury Central School Ski Race Team, which uses the mountain for its practices, training, and two races each season.

For more information about racing and other events at Plattekill, please visit plattekill.com.

STEVEN BUSCH
I’m a PSIA L2 Telemark Instructor and have been freeheeling since the days of skinny skis and leather boots … over 30 yrs! Wow doesn’t seem that long! I enjoy teaching skiing to all levels, from zero to hero, alpine skiers crossing over to tele and telemark skiers taking it to the next level. Plattekill has such awesome terrain and is so freeheel friendly, and Platty’s rental shop has telemark gear so come free your heels!

My warm season gravity addiction is whitewater paddling. The summer finds me traveling the East as an American Canoe Association Instructor Trainer in canoe, kayak and SUP.

My favorite ski student these days is Hudson, my six-year-old grandson.

CANDACE CHARLES
The ski industry was something I was born into; my father worked as an instructor and I was in lessons every weekend from the time I was three years old until I joined the Gore Mountain racing team at age ten. I went on to become a Junior Instructor at 15 and took the initiative to ask to shadow adult lessons and train for my Professional Ski Instructors of America (PSIA) Level I Exam. At the time, I was the only certified Junior Instructor on staff, and was elevated to full-fledged instructor. Over the years, I worked on my own teaching and personal skiing, striving to make myself a better teacher and to achieve PSIA Level 3 (full certification). In addition, I have a Level 1 certification in Telemark and Snowboarding and my Children’s Specialist 2 accreditation. In 2015 I successfully tried out for and earned a spot on the PSIA Education Staff.

I began working at Plattekill in the 2015-2016 season as an instructor and staff trainer. Plattekill is a special place. Everyone I met, from other instructors to the rest of the staff and locals were so friendly; I immediately felt a sense of family. While taking a run down The Face a local took the time to introduce himself to me because he saw I was a new instructor. In addition to the welcoming, family-like atmosphere, the terrain at Plattekill is pretty amazing, especially when there is enough natural snow for the glades to open up. Plattekill is a wonderful place full of people who share a common passion for snow sports and I truly enjoy my role as both an instructor and mentor.

YOSEF GILLERS
I grew up outside of Boston, MA and starting skiing at age 3. When I was 9 we went to Jay Peak, VT and I fell in love with Ski School. The instructors in their Mountain Adventure program knew how to make every minute feel like an awesome expedition. On especially “east coast” days, they let us switch disciplines for a nominal fee, so I got comfortable snowboarding and telemarking by age 14. I never thought I would get to teach the sports I loved so much, but then changed I got to Plattekill.

On our first trip here, my wife and I fell in love with everything about the place—the gnarly terrain, the chill vibe, and the warm people. I also noticed some instructors were telemarking, so I stopped by the Ski School desk on my way out and submitted an application. The next day I showed up and started training with Jeff Crane (former director). I soon started teaching lessons in alpine, telemark, and snowboard, and in February 2016, I earned my PSIA Level I certification in Telemark.

Teaching first-timers is so rewarding. I start by building rapport—joking about doing backflips or making some goofy faces—it eases the nerves while we work on fundamentals. As we move through the learning progression, the nerves dissipate, and the smiles widen as my students start to get in the flow. Once they’re hooked, I know I’ve done my job, and I know they’ll be enjoying the mountains forever. Sharing moments like these, I feel so blessed to teach in the Plattekill Snowports School.
Binnekill Square, a staple in Margaretville, has been revived under new ownership as Binnekill Tavern. The tavern is built over the Binnekill and is a place of rest after a long day at work or on the slopes. Offering a large variety of delectable “Mountain Comfort Food,” we are open Thursday to Monday with full bar service. Our menu is based on modern interpretations of traditional mountain dishes. Brunch is served on Sundays. We are excited to continue to serve the community, and offer some of the best food and drinks in the Catskills.

Jessie’s Harvest House Restaurant and Lodge is a warm and comfy restaurant and lodge that features a delicious menu of rustic American style cuisine with locally sourced ingredients from the beautiful offerings of the Catskills. Overnight accommodations are also available in the cozy private guest rooms overlooking the scenic views of Hunter Mountain. Owners Phil and Sarah DiFalco opened the doors for operation in 2018. “It has definitely had its ups and downs but so far we are very happy with how things have been going. People have been loving our food and inn and we hope to continue that for feeling for a long time.

“Living and working in the Catskills is unique. I love it because its rare that you will get into a traffic jam on your way to work and the beauty of the area can’t be beat, but its definitely a challenge dealing with the flows of business between seasons. Knowing how to survive through all of the ups and downs that the area has is key.

“When I’m not working, I love to ski but finding the time to do is the tough part now that we have our own business. Our daughter just turned 1 and we hope to get her on skis as soon as she can walk. Hopefully that will get me out on the hill more often.”

MOTHER EARTH’S STOREHOUSE
Locations in Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Saugerties motherearthstorehouse.com
Over 30 years ago brothers Chris and Kevin Schneider helped usher the organic and all-natural food trend into the Hudson Valley. Although it may seem like a recent trend, the organic and sustainable “Buy Local” movement has been around for many decades. In 1978, when the Kingston Storehouse opened, Mother Earth’s was an unlikely competitor to larger food chains. Nowadays, just about every customer-conscious food market has a shelf or section dedicated to health-related products. Though modest in size, compared to the “big-box” supermarkets, Mother Earth’s Storehouse has always been focused on wholesome, nutritious foods and supplements that are not laden with artificial ingredients. 30 years later the Schneider brothers continue to expand and grow their business with the same passion, drive and dedication to provide the people of the Hudson Valley with the very best organic and all natural products. Come experience Mother Earth’s at any one of their three convenient Hudson Valley locations in Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Saugerties.

Woodstock Art Exchange—a gift shop and gallery featuring unique contemporary crafts, cool art, and awesome functional and artistic glass from the Pablo Glass studio next door. Something for everyone. Come to visit, and see why we’re the hottest place on Route 28. Just 6 miles west of the Kingston exit on the NYS Thruway. Open Friday through Sunday 11 am to 6 pm, Monday 10 am to 4 pm.

Woodstock Art Exchange opened in December 2016. Owner, artist and photographer Pablo (aka Paul) Weinschenk took up glassblowing as a “retirement” activity after more than two decades of running a fine-art printing business. When the first Pablo Glass studio was destroyed by Hurricane Irene, Pablo—together with his stepson Ernesto Echeverria—relocated and rebuilt a new studio, first in midtown Kingston, then in Woodstock, and finally in West Hurley. In the fall of 2018, the doors opened to a new glass studio/workshop next door.

“We love the diversity of a community that is rural, “upstate urban,” and a destination for anyone who can’t resist the incredibly rich artistic culture of the Catskills. We love hosting events at the gallery/gift shop and inviting people into our glass studio to watch us work. If you come to visit us, we’ll also be happy to recommend our favorite restaurants!”
Francis X. Driscoll is an award-winning nature photographer, whose work has appeared in many publications, including National Geographic Explorer and Cynthia Dantzic’s art book 100 New York Photographers. He grew up in the Bronx, where he experimented with photography as a young man, and he eventually went on to travel the country, settling in California and working in the film industry. When he returned to the East Coast, he found his way to the Catskill Mountains, and it was there he took up photography on a regular basis and began to rediscover a talent only glimpsed in his youth. Over the years he has captured some of the most iconic images of the Great Northern Catskills, and his work evokes a sense of understanding for what inspired the birth of the Hudson River School of Art nearly two centuries ago. Driscoll won a national award from the North American Nature Photographer’s Association for his piece Apple Tree in Winter, which depicts a lone apple tree sitting amidst a snow-covered landscape and appearing to grip the snow that lays atop its branches almost as though to avoid the barrenness of the season. His piece Rainbow Over Kaaterskill Clove, which depicts a shot taken from the top of a falls with a rainbow arching over the clove and the Hudson River Valley in the distance, is featured on the cover of the 2012 I Love New York magazine. His photography is featured in corporate collections, the textbooks of Harcourt Publishing, and a myriad of travel brochures and magazines. Driscoll is a self-taught photographer, whose work involves total immersion in a setting so that he might capture that rare glimpse and share it with others. His primary subject is the Catskill Forest Preserve, and his best shots are often hard-won through years of returning to the same place with a sense of expectation for the beauty that might be revealed to him on any given day. He shares his craft with others by leading hikes, conducting workshops and giving private instruction, and his book Images of the Northern Catskills, is a celebration of his work.

The monthly photography portfolio was a regular (and very popular) feature of the Guide for many years. It is a marvelous vehicle to showcase the beauty of the region and the talent of the region’s photographers, and we are pleased to reintroduce it into the Guide this year.

If you would like to have your photos considered for publication, please send three samples of your work to Sarah Taft at tafts@catskillmtn.org.

GET TO KNOW OUR PIANOS!

JOHN BROADWOOD 7’ GRAND PIANO
Ca. 1842-1846

Broadwood & Sons are the longest continuous manufacturer of pianos. Starting with harpsichords in the mid 1770’s they turned to piano manufacturing in the 1770’s and continue today. Their instruments are high quality, with many innovations. They were copied by many other piano producers, including movement of the wrest plank of earlier pianofortes from the side of the case to the back, thereby straightening the keys and introducing pedals to the instruments. They were the first to extend the keyboard beyond five octaves to six in 1794. The Broadwood pianos were popular with many musicians including Joseph Haydn, Ludwig van Beethoven and Chopin. In 1827 they received a patent for the precursor of the full metal frame for strengthening support for the strings. This beautiful instrument with Egyptian motif is among the first to include metal struts and a hitch pin plate.
